

Artsci Alumni

Issue 2

Artsci Alumni | Issue 2

Welcome to the second edition of the McMaster Arts & Science alumni newsletter. This time around, we have program highlights and news of grads making headlines for award-winning literature, important research, creative design, and local advocacy. As always, we encourage you to connect with us and share your stories so we can, in turn, share them with the wider Artsci community. Enjoy Issue 2!

Newsmakers

Artsci Alum Wins GG Award

Sarah Henstra (1996) has won a Governor General's Literary Award. One of Canadian literature's most significant honours, the prize is awarded annually to Canadian authors who display literary excellence in a series of categories ranging from fiction and non-fiction to poetry and young people's literature.

READ MORE

Artsci Alum Creates 'Weed Deck'

With cannabis now legal across Canada, Ben Barrett-Forrest (2014) has developed a unique deck of cards to help Canadians make informed decisions about cannabis use. "The Weed Deck" is a comprehensive and practical guide for both new and experienced users.

READ MORE

Fighting on Behalf of a Hospital

Matthew Noble Wohlgemut (1998) is leading the charge against a Hamilton Health Sciences decision to move the obstetrics and surgical units out of West Lincoln Memorial Hospital in Grimsby, Ontario. This decision, it is believed, could effectively close the hospital.

READ MORE

Artsci Grad Named Vanier Scholar

This past summer, Saad Syed (2016) was one of 11 McMaster University researchers to receive a Vanier Canada Graduate Scholarship, the Government of Canada's most prestigious grant for doctoral students and postdoctoral researchers.

READ MORE

Program Highlights

Led by Artsci grads, current Artsci students go into the community for experiential learning module

In line with McMaster University's mandate to increase experiential learning in undergraduate studies, Arts & Science offers students a range of courses that take students outside the typical classroom setting. One such course is Urban Placemaking. Taught by Artsci grads Jackie Brown (2014) and Rosalind Pfaff (2013), this one-unit learning module explores the collaborative process of animating public and private spaces to strengthen the social and cultural fabric of cities.

READ MORE

Arun Lakra: Sequence

Arun Lakra, a Calgary-based writer and ophthalmologist, is the author of Sequence, this year's Common Reading Program selection. The Arts & Science Program joined with McMaster's Socrates Project to bring the author to campus 6-8 November for a workshop and the play reading with Artsci students, followed by an engaging career talk in LRW-3038 (the new C-105!).

READ MORE

Notices, Reminders, and Events

• Special thanks to Anna D'Angela (2013), Rebekah Pullen (2013), Nathan Cupido (2016), Mack Gillies (2017), Varun Puri (2017), and Sarah Sandor (2018), who participated in the enthusiastically received Milk & Cookies & Grad Studies event for current students last month.

• If you are willing to participate in similar Milk & Cookies events, please contact Artsci Director Jean Wilson at wilsonj@mcmaster.ca. A reminder also to contact Mat Savelli at savellm@mcmaster.ca by 30 Nov. if you'd be willing to serve as an in-class co-facilitator and/or as an interviewee for this year's Alumni Experience Inquiry course.

• Please visit the Alumni in the News section of the Artsci website. There, we post links to articles about or referencing our grads. Recent posts include stories by or featuring Helen Kang (2002), Lisa Austin (1994), Kate Parizeau (2001), and Vivian Tam (2014).

• Please send in news items as well as notice of your awards or distinctions (we'll add the latter to our list of Alumni Honours on the website).

• As noted above, if you have interesting stories, we encourage you to share them with us so that we can share them further with the Artsci community!

You are receiving this message on behalf of the Arts & Science Program at McMaster University. If you no longer wish to be subscribed to our alumni distribution list, please email Communications & Outreach Coordinator Blake Dillon at dillonb@mcmaster.ca with "Unsubscribe Alumni Mailing List" in the subject line.

Arts & Science
McMaster University
L.R. Wilson Hall, Room 3038
1280 Main St. West
Hamilton, ON L8S 4K1
905.525.9140 x24440