Office Hours: Tuesdays, 10:00-11:30 am, Commons 105-F
Chat Hours: Thursdays, 11:00-1:00 pm

Course Description:
This course focuses on socially engaged artistic and activist practices. We will consider the strategies and uses of artistic aesthetic taken up by individuals and collectives for the purpose of social interaction, intervention or change. We will explore the materials, methods, and theoretical approaches taken by artist activists through readings, case studies, and student projects. We will consider existing scholarship on socially engaged art, as well as closely analyze specific practices on a local, national and global scale. Together we will investigate, analyze, and assess the value of these hybrid practices as aesthetic, social, and political activities.

Course Objectives:
• Students will gain exposure to a wide range of activist and socially engaged artistic practices.
• Students will be able to demonstrate an understanding of how various political groups, past and present, utilize creative forms of media to advance their interests and/or effect social change.
• Students will engage with theoretical concepts and scholarly debates on artistic and creative activism and art as a means for social change.
• Students will gain knowledge of artistic activism on local, national, and global scale.
• Students will be encouraged to analyze and critique the political potential of art.
• Student will have the opportunity to analyze the potential aesthetic, social, and political value of a range of art practices in person and through reproductions.
• Students will refine research, writing, and critical thinking skills through course assignments.

Sustainable Written Work Submission Guidelines:
The written work submission guidelines have been chosen to support the more sustainable use of paper, energy, and toner, and meet the Platinum standard of the Office of Sustainability; http://www.mcmaster.ca/sustainability/. All written work should be submitted in the following format: online submissions via Avenue to Learn. For any handouts or paper submissions, students are asked to please exclude title page, to use single line spacing and sans-serif font.

Academic Integrity Statement:
McMaster Policy on Academic Integrity:
You are expected to exhibit honesty and use ethical behaviour in all aspects of the learning process. Academic credentials you earn are rooted in principles of honesty and academic integrity. Academic dishonesty is to knowingly act or fail to act in a way that results or could result in unearned academic credit or advantage. This behaviour can result in serious consequences—e.g., the grade of zero on an assignment, loss of credit with a notation on the transcript (notation reads: “Grade of F assigned for academic dishonesty”), and/or suspension or expulsion from the university. It is your responsibility to understand what constitutes academic dishonesty. For information on the various types of academic dishonesty, please refer to the Academic Integrity Policy, located at: http://www.mcmaster.ca/academicintegrity. The following illustrates only three forms of academic dishonesty: 1) Plagiarism—e.g., the submission of work that is not one’s own or for which other credit has been obtained. 2) Improper collaboration in group work. 3) Copying or using unauthorized aids in tests and examinations.

MSAF Statement:
McMaster Student Absence Form (MSAF):
In the event of an absence, students should review and follow the Academic Regulations in the Undergraduate Calendar “Requests for Relief for Missed Academic Term Work.” Please consult the MSAF statement on our website (https://artsci.mcmaster.ca/forms-requests/) and direct any questions or concerns to Shelley Anderson or Rebecca Bishop in the Arts & Science Program Office as appropriate.

Academic Accommodation of Students with Disabilities Statement:
Academic Accommodation of Students with Disabilities:
Students who require academic accommodation must contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS) to make arrangements with a Program Coordinator. Academic accommodations must be arranged for each term of study. Student Accessibility Services can be contacted by phone 905-525-9140 ext. 28652 or email sas@mcmaster.ca. For further information, consult McMaster University’s Policy for Academic Accommodation of Students with Disabilities.

Email Contact and Student Responsibility Statement:
Please Note:
The instructor and university reserve the right to modify elements of the course during the term. The university may change the dates and deadlines for any or all courses in extreme circumstances. If either type of modification becomes necessary, reasonable notice and communication with the students will be given with explanation and the opportunity to comment on changes. It is the responsibility of students to check their McMaster email and course websites weekly during the term and to note any changes. Announcements will be made in class and by using the course email distribution list.

Note to Students:
We will be viewing and discussing controversial material. Many activist and socially engaged practices focus on a politics of difference and raise issues around racial and gender identities, oppression and resistance. Graphic violence, alternate life styles, and explicit sexuality are themes pursued by some contemporary artists. Some works may express viewpoints with which you do not agree. Some contemporary pieces are made expressly with the intent of provoking new ways of seeing or thinking about art or the world around us. I urge each student to express his/her views in a respectful manner in class and if for any reason you find the material difficult to view or discuss with please come and see me.
